BENJAMIN W. ROBBINS

Benjamin W. Robbins

Benjamin W. Robbins, a son of Chandler and Sarah (Burgess) Robbins, was born at North Carver, August 12, 1835.

He attended school in his native village, and when about eighteen years old went to work for William S. Eddy of Middleboro and later for Colonel Peter Peirce.

His knowledge of oxen and good farming were appreciated by Colonel Peirce who entrusted him with many responsibilities.

On April 9, 1862, Mr. Robbins married Lydia M. Hammond, a daughter of Deacon Thomas Hammond of Carver, and with his bride, settled in May of the same year, on the farm vacated by his brother John, which has continued to be their home ever since.

Mr. Robbins was an exceptionally honest and industrious man, one whom every one trusted and respected. He was never so happy as when busy on the farm or cranberry bogs. He was one of the pioneers in the cranberry industry and previous to 1870 had shipped 200 barrels of berries in a single year from his bogs at Swan Holt and Mahutchette.

In 1882 he was the choice of Carver as the Republican candidate for Representative. He was elected and served his district well.

Perhaps the public enterprise for which Mr. Robbins worked the hardest was the building of the Plymouth and Middleboro railroad, serving later as one of the directors.

He was a firm supporter of the temperance movement, was a member of the committee who built the old town hall, built the first half mile of macadam road in Carver, was a member of the Congregational Church for many years, and aided in having it incorporated as "The First Congregational Church of Carver," thus separating it from the old parish system. He was a trustee at the time of his death, March 25, 1912.

Mr. Robbins is missed, but he will be remembered by those who knew him as a prompt, decisive man, fearless and brave, a friend of the needy and thoughtful of the sick. Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2015

REPORT OF TOWN HISTORY COMMITTEE.

Having completed the work assigned to us we are pleased to report that a creditable history of the town has been placed before the public. Quite naturally in such efforts the present may not regard the work as of much consequence but we are sanguine on the thought that the future will appreciate it and that when the changes that are now in motion on our social and industrial life have had their effect this record of Carver through its earlier stages will stand as a credit to the public spirit of this generation. We are glad to note that the book is read with satisfaction by many former residents of the town and that it is finding its way into the public libraries of the country.

The printing and illustrating was done by E. Anthony & Sons, New Bedford, and in confirmation of our judgment in selecting a printer we receive many compliments on the typographical make-up of the book and also on the artistic and significant design of the binding.

The chairman of your committee takes this opportunity of referring to other work in this line on which he has hitherto received no credit. The State has published the vital records of the town up to 1850 and this publication may now be found in the public libraries of the State which affords easy access to our earlier records. This publication was made from a copy of our early records furnished by your chairman with additions from the cemetery inscriptions and from private records, and as the copy was verified by a representative of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, it stands as an authoritive copy of the records.

There are yet two matters that should be considered before our records may be said to be easily accessible. Our record of cemetery inscriptions should be indexed or arranged in alphabetical order; and our volumes of town records which are complete should be indexed. To continue this work we suggest that the balance in the Town History account be left to draw against for this purpose.

We also call the attention of the public to the fact that there are a few valuable records in private custody the safety of which should be felt as a public responsibility. And as we are to have a fireproof vault with ample room we suggest that the custodians of these records be furnished with a drawer in which, while the books would still be in the custody of their owners they would be safely preserved.

REPORT OF FOREST WARDEN.

By means of the appropriation made at the annual town meeting, fire-fighting apparatus has been placed at the homes of the following men with the hope that by so doing it will be possible to reach either a forest or a building fire in any section of the town more quickly than heretofore, and with the best means of checking the same. At Herbert F. Atwood's, a wagon with 10 extinguishers.

At George H. Powers, a wagon with 10 extinguishers.

At Alton H. Griffith's, a wagon with 10 extinguishers.

At Gustavus Atwood's, 6 extinguishers.

At Jesse A. Holmes', 6 extinguishers.

At Henry M. Peckham's 6 extinguishers.

Many acres of valuable timber and some houses have already been saved by their use.

The look-out at Plymouth Fire Tower, which was built by the town of Plymouth and is maintained by the State, has been of inestimable value to us, as a means of quickly locating fires.

The state earnestly desires that we consider the advisability of uniting with our other adjoining towns in the erection of a similar tower to be located in the town of Middleboro and which would also be maintained by the state.

HERBERT F. ATWOOD, .

Forest Warden.

REPORT OF THE MOTH SUPERINTENDENT.

The most effective way of preventing the destruction of our forests by the gypsy moth is to cut out the hardwood.

The young gypsies which hatch on a pine lot are forced to starve as their stomachs will not digest pine needles.

As the town is now generally infested, I would recommend the cutting out of all wood excepting the pine as the most satisfactory relief.

HERBERT F. ATWOOD, Moth Superintendent.

We have recommended to the Auditors the sum of $250 to cover the possible needs of the coming year, which would mean the setting of trees at North Carver on the "Green" where there are many missing. Also other places where we think it necessary. There is need of more money on the Parkway at South Carver on the shore of Sampson Pond in order to leave this work in anything like as planned in the beginning. A large or small amount may be expended as you shall direct.

Art. 20.

The following report was presented by the Town Hall committee.

Citizens of Carver :---

Pursuant to a vote of the town, your committee submit the following report. A majority favor the lot owned by James A. Vaughan, of about four acres adjoining the High School lot on the street, for a location. (Vote being eight for Vaughan lot, and one each for present town house lot, and for a lot on the Jason Southworth farm.) Some of the reasons for our selection follows:

It is near the centre of the voters, and of the school children as shown by the list of voters and by the school reports.

It is near the junction of the streets leading to East Carver and West Carver with the main street leading from North Carver to South Carver. It is a high and dry lot that will need but a little grading, and will enable us to have a firm dry foundation for a building, giving us a dry basement, and therefore we can build a vault that will doubtless preserve our records in good condition for a long time.

It is near Shurtleff Park, where we hold our Old Home gatherings, and will be an ideal place to set out tables for those occasions, enabling us to set permanent supports for tables and seats, thus effecting an annual saving.

It is a well sheltered place for our horses in inclement weather, The land can be bought for thirty-five dollars per acre, plus the value of the lumber thereon, costing for a four acre lot about four hundred dollars. And the town can realize approximately two hundred dollars from the sale of lumber after leaving an abundance of shade trees. To enlarge the present Town House lot will cost two hundred dollars for Mr. Atwood's land.

The majority favor a wooden building, believing that the increased cost of one of brick will not be justified.

As to the interior arrangement, it favors good size and airy rooms on the ground floor for its offices, with a commodious fire-proof vault adjoining, believing that no board or committee can do its very best work while working in our present quarters. We think it is very evident that our library very much needs enlarged quarters. And if our recommendations are carried out, viz., that you give us two rooms in the new building for library purposes, a reading room and a stock room. We believe that our really fine collection of books will be of much more value to our people. It has been suggested that we pay for the building in one or two years. It has also been proposed that we take four thousand dollars from the treasury, that is available, leaving the balance to be raised by notes payable in five or ten years, and we favor either this plan or that proposed in our original report, that we pay for it in ten annual payments.

In regard to the amount that a building would cost, we cannot obtain any very accurate figures, without plans and specifications, and we did not feel that we would be justified in expending money for these under the vote.

Respectfully submitted,

SETH C. C. FINNEY,

Carver, March 28, 1913.

Chairman.

James J. Ryan presented a minority report, giving the advantages of the present Town House lot, and mainly on account of its central location for all sections of the town.

Motion by T. T. Vaughan that the report of the committee be accepted.

RECORD OF ATTENDANCE.

The increase in cost of transportation is due to increase in the number of scholars from North Carver, and two from Plympton, for which Carver will be reimbursed.

The income from the logs taken from the High School lot will pay a large part of the expense for clearing the same.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Committee of Carver :--

The school superintendency district of which Carver is a part comprises the towns of Carver, Lakeville, Rochester and Raynham. In the four towns there are thirty-three schools and thirty-six teachers. Of this number twenty-two were teaching in the district for the first time in September, and sixteen were teaching their first schools. In addition to these changes since last June there have been five since the beginning of the fall term, making twenty-seven from the close of schools in June, to the beginning of the winter term. Advance in school work is very difficult under these conditions. It is unfortunate that such frequent changes occur, but we do not pay sufficient salary to prevent them. This is not saying that we do not pay as much as we can well afford, it is stating the reason for the changes.

There is a scarcity of good teachers. So great has this been that in several rooms in the Brockton schools there were no regular teachers during the fall term. The teaching was done by students from the Bridgewater Normal School, who were sent out for practice teaching during the last year of their course. The Commissioner of Education said recently that the nine normal schools of the state could not supply the demand for teachers. They graduated 797 students in June, 1913: Fitchburg 135, Bridgewater 134, Salem 105, Framingham 105, Westfield 97, Lowell, 70, Worcester 66, North Adams 55 and Hyannis 30.

Some of the normal schools specialize along particular lines: Salem in training for commercial teaching, Framingham somewhat in household arts, Bridgewater in preparation for upper grade work and departmental teaching, North Adams in agriculture and household arts, Fitchburg in training young men for teachers of practical arts, Hyannis in practical arts. Hyannis also has a one-year course for training teachers for country schools. All Massachusetts normal schools require for admission the preparation given by a first-class high school. The requirements in teaching at present are such that it is unwise to attempt it without normal school training for grade work, with the addition of college training for high school work.

The demand for teachers shows that there are abundant opportunities for employment in the teaching profession. Any bright, intelligent and energetic young man or woman graduating with high standing from a Massachusetts normal school is sure of immediate employment and good salary.

For schools such as ours there are four classes of teachers available: those that graduate from normal schools but without experience except that obtained from practice teaching before graduation, graduates of high schools without other education or training, those who have taught several years with but moderate success, and those who have taught several years successfully, and who for special reasons accept positions such as we can offer. There are good teachers in each class, but those in the latter are without question the most desirable, but they are rarely obtainable. Next to those the normal graduates, although without experience, have proved the best.

We are employing this year eight teachers who are graduates of normal schools, six from Bridgewater two from Framingham, also one having a partial course at Bridgewater.

Miss Ruth Holloway of Lakeville is at the North Grammar school. She has twenty pupils in grades VI-VIII. This is six less than last year. There are probably five in this school to enter the ninth grade next year.

Miss Inez M. Bailey is at the North Primary school. This is her third year in that school. She has twenty-five pupils in grades I-IV thirteen more than last year. Good work is being done in this school and it shows the advantage of continuous work by one teacher. The reading was especially commended by the teacher of reading from Bridgewater Normal School who visited several schools in town.

Miss Miriam H. Braley of Middleboro is at the Center Grammar school. She graduated from Bridgewater Normal School in June, 1913. She has twenty pupils in grades V-VIII. There are six more than last year. There will probably be four to enter the ninth grade next year.

Miss Alice M. Russell is at the Center Primary school. She graduated from the Bridgewater Normal School in June, 1913. She has thirteen pupils in grades I-IV, three less than last year.

Miss Marion Lyon of Brockton is at the South Grammar school. She is also a graduate from Bridgewater Normal in 1913. She has fourteen pupils in grades V-VIII, one less than last year. There will probably be three to enter the ninth grade in the fall.

Mrs. Anne R. McFarlin taught the South Primary school until the close of the fall term, and was succeeded by Miss Amy L. Felton of Norton. She has twenty-four pupils in grades I-IV, the same number as last year.

Miss Ruth O. Leavis is at the Bates Pond school. She is a graduate of the Bridgewater Normal school in 1913. She has twenty pupils in grades I-VI, the same number as last year.

Miss Helene E. Field is at the Popes Point school. This is her second year in the school, and she is doing good work. She has twenty-two pupils in grades I-VII, six more than last year.

Mrs. Adelaide Kenney taught the East Carver school until the latter part of the fall term, and was succeeded by Mrs. Lulu Pratt. She has twenty-one pupils in grades I-VIII, nine less than last year.

Mr. Benjamin S. Tubman, who was principal of the High School for two years, resigned at the close of the school in July to take up grammar school work. Mr. Harold P. Marston was elected to the position. Miss Viola Merrifield is serving her third year in the school with excellent success. There are thirteen in the ninth grade, eight in the fourth class, eight in the third class, six in the second class, and two in the first class. There are twelve in the eighth grade, most of whom will enter the ninth grade in the fall. The total number in the High School and ninth grade combined is thirty-seven, the same as last year.

When the ninth grade was first entered in the High School there were but three High School classes, and at no time since has there been the full four years of High School work carried on. Some times a class has been so small that two years could be combined. Now, however, the four classes are represented, and cannot be combined. Another year the entire time of two teachers will be needed for the High School work alone, not because of the number of pupils, but the number of subjects. This year the periods for recitation are too short to do the work properly. Other provision will have to be made for the ninth grade. A plan which would care for this grade for the next school year would be to have no class leave the Center Primary school at the close of the school year in June, but continue there another year. The school is small at present, and the pupils now there and those to enter in the fall could be easily cared for. No class would then enter the Center Grammar school in the fall, thus there would be no more grades than at present. The eighth could continue as the ninth, and the other eighth grade pupils, eight in number, could be added to it. This would make twenty-eight in all, which could be accommodated by the addition of more desks, although the room would be somewhat crowded.

I would call attention to two new educational laws passed by the last Legislature. The one regarding employment of minors is probably fairly well known. The essential features are these:

Every child between fourteen and sixteen years of age, if physically and mentally able, must attend school all the time the public day schools are in session; or be regularly employed for at least six hours per day; or have permission from the superintendent of schools to be profitably employed at home.

An Employment Certificate is necessary for any kind of employment for a child between fourteen and sixteen years of age, employed away from home.

An Employment Certificate is obtained from the superintendent of schools or from a person authorized by him to issue them. In this town they are issued by the secretary of the School Committee.

To secure an Employment Certificate:

First—Obtain promise of employment from some employer, which must be given in writing on a promise to employ ticket.

Second—Obtain a physician's Certificate of Health, on the back of the promise to employ ticket.

Third—Obtain a School Record ticket from the teacher of the last school attended. This record cannot be obtained unless a child has attended school for at least 130 days since becoming thirteen years of age.

Fourth—Take the tickets thus obtained to the one authorized to issue employment certificates, and obtain such a certificate.

Necessary blanks are furnished by the person issuing employment certificates.

A new employment certificate is necessary for every change of employment and employer.

When applying for an employment certificate procure one of the following proofs of age, in the order given:

A birth certificate. or a certified copy.

A baptismal certificate, or a certified copy.

A passport or immigration record, or a certified copy.

The record of age as given in the register of the first school attended in Massachusetts.

The statement of a physician, not the family physician, that he believes the child in question to be at least fourteen years of age. This statement of the physician must be accompanied by a signed statement from the parent or guardian, giving the name, date and place of birth and residence of the child, and stating that he is unable to obtain any other accepted proof of age.

No person between sixteen and twenty-one years of age can be employed in any factory, workshop, manufacturing mechanical or mercantile establishment without an Education Certificate. This is issued by the person issuing employment certificates.

There are a large number of employments for which certificates cannot be given to persons between fourteen and sixteen years of age; also a less number to those between sixteen and eighteen years of age; and one, work in or about any bar-room or saloon, to those under twenty-one years of age.

Another law is that relating to compulsory savings by teachers. It is known as An Act to Establish a Retirement System for Public School Teachers. It is too long to give more than a brief summary of it, which is as follows:

All teachers entering service in the public schools of Massachusetts for the first time after July 1, 1914, thereby become members of the Teachers' Retirement Association. Membership is compulsory for all such teachers. All others may become members.

All members of the association shall be assessed not less than three nor more than seven per cent. of their salary: but without regard to the amount of salary or rate of assessment the assessment shall not be less than $35 nor more than $100 per annum.

The assessment shall be deducted from the salary before it is paid to the teacher. This fact must be stated to a teacher when making a contract with him.

To receive a pension a teacher must be sixty years of age, and must have taught in the public schools of the state for fifteen years, five of which must have been immediately before his retirement. The Retirement Association is controlled by a board of seven members: the state insurance commissioner, the state bank commissioner, the commissioner of education, three members of the Retirement Association, and one other person.

The funds of the association shall be in the custody of the treasurer of the Commonwealth.

The age of compulsory retirement is not less than sixty and not more than seventy.

The object of the law is compulsory savings for old age, and there is no question about its ultimate benefit, although it will not be received until a teacher becomes sixty years of age.

Those who have reached positions paying from $700 to $900 can easily afford the assessment, but it is a heavy tax on those just beginning work. Many of them are in debt for their education.

This year the rate of assessment is fixed at five per cent. of the salary. A teacher receiving $700 would be assessed $35. But the teacher just beginning work must pay the same assessment. Our salary for beginners is $11.25 per week, $405 per year, $1.30 per day, less than is paid for the cheapest kind of day labor.

The deduction of $35 per year from the present salaries means paying $10.25 per week for beginners, and most of our teachers are beginners. Suitable teachers cannot be found for that salary. The cost of a course at a normal school is not less than $250 per year, and graduates pay from $500 to $1,000, according to the length of their course, for the preparation for their work.

Seeing that the application of the law means practically a reduction of a dollar a week in salaries, for a benefit to be received sometime in the future, and that they would be placed at a disadvantage in competition with other towns that would raise salaries on account of the reduction, towns have already begun to vote to raise salaries to take effect in September, 1914. In the school district, comprising Brewster, Yarmouth and Dennis, the first two towns have voted a flat increase in all salaries of $50, and the third has voted an increase equal to the amount of the assessment in the salaries of beginners, and in all others who join the annuity association. Two of the towns of this district have included the cost of the assessments in their estimates of expenses for another year. The third has not yet held its meeting for making the annual report.

It would cost this town $315 to make the increase in the salaries of the elementary teachers. As it is not possible to get suitable teachers for less than we now pay, I would strongly recommend that it be made.

The sight and hearing tests showed twenty-four children defective in sight, and eight in hearing. In twenty-six the defect was sufficient to need medical attendance, and in these cases the parents were notified of the fact. Some of the defects could be easily remedied if attended to in time, but become serious if neglected.

Respectfully submitted,

C. W. HUMPHREY,

Superintendent.
