The total circulation for the year 1930 was 5,071 (books and magazines) showing an increase of 1,196. An inventory has been taken of both the adult fiction and the juvenile collection. Books, especially the juvenile books have been washed in vinegar and water, marked and shellacked. The shelves where the juvenile books were kept have been adjusted so that all sizes of books can stand upright, giving longer life to the books. There has been several donations of books in the past year—both fiction and non-fiction.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

One change in the membership of this committee has occurred since the last Town Meeting. Mrs. Mary Josephine Turner, being about to remove from the town, resigned October first. In accordance with the method prescribed by the law of the State Mrs. Eleanor L. Shaw was elected to fill the vacancy.

The work of the schools has gone forward very satisfactorily through the earnest service of our efficient teachers under the wise direction of the faithful superintendent.

Care has been taken to endeavor to keep the school property in suitable condition. To this end some repairs have been made at each school house. The larger items, touching property matters, have been the erection of a new building for toilet purposes and fuel storage and the installation of a water system at the Special School, the completion of the equipment of the windows and doors at the Center School with metal weather strips, and the improvement of heating facilities and the outside painting of buildings at the North School.

All the high school pupils of the town are now attending the Memorial High School of Middleboro, an arrangement which is proving very satisfactory.

We commend to the people the report of the Superintendent of Schools. Of especial interest, in this year of widespread financial stress, is the section which refers to the cost of maintaining public schools. That we can carry on our work in the grades with real satisfaction and can open to our graduates the advantages of a well equipped, finely organized and skillfully managed high school at a fairly moderate cost is cause for congratulation.

The School Department desires to express sincere appreciation for the loyal support given by the Town to its efforts in promoting the interests of education.

WILLIAM I. WARD,
RUEL S. GIBBS,
ELEANOR L. SHAW,

School Committee.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee and Citizens of Carver:

I herewith submit my eighth annual report as Superintendent of Schools.

Teachers

The town is fortunate in retaining all its teachers. The unusually fine spirit which the teachers manifest is shown by their attendance at the course of lectures given under the auspices of the Plymouth County Extension Service, and by the successful completion of summer courses by four of the Center School teachers. Several teachers have also given a day of their vacation to visiting schools in other places.

School Costs

In November of each year the State Department of Education issues a statistical report. The material therein is taken from the annual reports of the school committees. These legally required reports are made in the same items; therefore comparisons based upon these results are accurate and fair. A comparison of Carver costs with 124 towns in Group 4,—towns having under 5000 inhabitants and not maintaining high schools,—is given:

Average per pupil cost for the support of elementary schools:

Carver $89.73 Group Average $79.49 State Average $79.73

Average expenditure per pupil for High School education:

Carver $209.79 Group Average $178.83

Net cost to the town $87.39 Group Average $97.62.

Average cost per pupil for the support of all schools from local taxation:

Carver $76.27 Group Average $72.71 State Average $90.10

From the above figures it is clear that Carver is by no means paying heavily for the education of its children. The low cost of High School education is due to the large sum which the town receives from the State. The total for the year 1930 from all sources amounts to $7,945.45. This should be kept in mind when the budget is before the voters at town meeting.

Reading

Essential Objectives:

1. To secure enlargement of life by means of rich and varied experience through reading.
2. To develop strong motives for, and permanent interest in reading.
3. To cultivate tastes and standards for good reading material.
4. To acquaint pupils with sources of different kinds of desirable reading material.
5. To establish right attitudes and effective habits and skills in reading.

The old order changeth. Should you visit a first grade class, you would find the children working in several groups. One group would be saying the words from flash cards as rapidly as the teacher could handle them. If a child misses a word, the card is handed to him for study. Another group would be busy working out answers to questions from their readers. A third group would be coloring drawings according to directions on the board or in their Work Books.

In a second grade room you would find the teacher asking questions, the children reading silently to find the answers; or perhaps the teacher would ask them to find words or phrases. After this drill, when the content is understood and the difficult words known, the child is asked to read the whole selection.

Groups of children in all the lower grades will be found interpreting their reading by dramatizing, drawing, coloring and moulding.

Much of the reading time to-day is given to silent reading. The eye and the brain move faster than the lips, so that were the emphasis continually placed on oral reading, the comprehending process would be dulled.

This period covering the first three grades is where the mechanics of reading should be mastered. It is the time for establishing the correct habits. By the end of this period the child should have acquired good eye movements, should be able to perceive a group of words at a time, and should be able to reproduce phrases intelligently in oral reading.

In the second reading period, that of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, the children are encouraged to read extensively. Books are taken from the Public Library and reading lists are posted. This outside reading is recognized by the awarding of reading certificates by the State Librarian. By the end of this period children should have a desire to read good books, both fiction and fact. They should be able to reproduce in their own words a short selection. They should be able to select a few facts that relate to a problem to be solved; to determine the truth of a statement, to make comparisons and to draw conclusions.

Through the junior high school grades the child is given ample opportunity for more extensive reading of literary masterpieces as well as much broader reading along the line of correlation with his social studies,—history and geography. Readings in poetry and prose tending to lead to a deeper, more cultural appreciation of literature are emphasized.

Testing

We have begun the use of the Columbian Achievement Tests this year. These give a standard test every two months and furnish through the Standard score a means of comparison with schools in a large range. Each child has his individual graph card which enables him to see at a glance what progress he has made in the two months period, and how his work compares with the average. The tests in Health and General Science give a basis for more unified work, and have brought out some very interesting points as to the home conditions, as well as serving as an aid to the school nurse. The following table on page 72 shows the results in the first tests:

Grade	Class Mean Standard	Spelling	Reading	History	Language	Arithmetic Fundamentals	Arithmetic Reasoning	Geog.	Nature & Health
III	Class Mean Standard	14 10	13 18		15 11	29 29			8 6
IV	Class Mean Standard	13.5 10	15 13		12 13	25 29	3 3	6 12	9 9
V	Class Mean Standard	18 10	19 23		25 18	35 22	5 4	17 15
VI	Class Mean Standard	18 11	16 25		31 27	44 20	3 3	19 20	6 6
VII	Class Mean Standard			17 10	16 15	44 30	7 7
VIII	Class Mean Standard			18 16	27 27	22 21	3 7	18 10	6 8

The tests also enable the teacher to make a careful diagnosis of both class and individual errors, thus providing an accurate basis for remedial work when needed.

Health

The schools are visited each week by the school nurse. Physical charts are kept for each child with records of tonsils, adenoids, teeth, weight, physical condition and follow-up visits. The weighing is made each term and all defects are noted and notice sent to all parents of such defects. Unless the parents give immediate attention to these notices, the greatest value of this department cannot be obtained. The school nurse will gladly confer with any parent who does not fully understand what should be done.

The report of the school nurse follows:

Mr. Arthur B. Webber,
Superintendent of Schools,
Dear Sir:

I herewith submit the annual report of the work done by the school nurse during the year ending December 31, 1930.

School visits	150
Home visits	210
Children excluded for pediculosis	40
"        "        "    scabies	20
"        "        "    impetigo	50
"        "        "    ringworm	2

The children have been weighed and measured four times during the year. A clinic for retarded children was held in April. Twelve were examined; twelve personal histories taken. In December a tuberculosis clinic was held in Middleboro and five children were X-rayed. In November the annual physical examination was given by Dr. Chase with the following results.

Poor teeth	140
Enlarged tonsils	110
Spinal curvature	38
Defective vision	38

Our Radio

It has been said that children are going to be weak minded in the future because they will not have to think at all. They will see the world moving before them on the screen, and hear music and listen to speeches by authorities in all fields but they will not have to do any intellectual work on their own account. It will probably be necessary to study ways and means of making effective the newer methods of securing knowledge through the eye and ear, so that the pupil can assimilate and utilize what he sees and hears. But it is within bounds to say that pupils in the schools of tomorrow will gain ten times as accurate an impression of the world in which they live through the screen and radio as pupils of yesterday got from their books.

The installing of a radio in the Center School has been of great value. The programs offered this year have been of increasing usefulness. The School of the Air is providing a greater variety, offering talks in science and literature, with historic dramatizations which are creating much interest. We asked the seventh grade to write their opinions of the value of the radio. The following examples are characteristics:

"Every Friday morning we hear Walter Damrosch and his orchestra, which he calls his musical family. We learn a lot about the different instruments and what they are used for. I think it is very interesting to learn music from distant lands. Mr. Damrosch is a very jolly fellow and likes children. I am glad we are fortunate enough to have a radio."

"Our school radio is very useful. I think so at least, because I never cared for history, and never wished to listen to any of the stories about history. But once the teacher told us that we were going to hear the story of Molly Pitcher over the radio. I made up my mind I was not going to listen to it, but when it began I could not help listening, it was so interesting. I could almost picture it in my mind. Since then when the teacher tells us we are going to hear something over the radio. I almost shout for joy. I don't know what we would do if we had the radio taken out of school. It is so useful."

I wish at this time to acknowledge the cordial support given by the school committee and the teachers at all times.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR B. WEBBER

You are hereby required on or after January 1, 1929, to destroy the gypsy and brown tail moths on your property in this town.

This notification is in accordance with Chapter 381, Acts of 1905, as amended by Chapter 268, Acts of 1906, which require cities and towns to destroy the eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests of the gypsy and brown tail moth, under heavy penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law.

If a property owner fails to destroy such eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests, then the city or town is required to destroy the same, and the cost of the work, in whole or in part, according to the value of the land, is assessed upon and becomes a lien on the land. (See Section 6, Chapter 381)

The Selectmen ask owners and tenants to co-operate with the town in its work on highways and other public grounds by doing effective work on their premises. Citizens who have cleaned their premises of the moths, but find their trees endangered by the neglect of owners of adjoining estates, should make complaint to the Selectmen. The infestation of a residential neighborhood by the neglect of a few will not be tolerated.

The eggs of the gypsy moth should be destroyed at once with creosote. They should never be scraped off the object on which they are laid. Careful search should be made for gypsy moth egg clusters, not only on trees, but also on house walls, stone walls, fences and in rubbish heaps, etc. Trees in which cavities occur and which it is not desirable to cut, should have the cavities tinned or cemented. This is important. The present and future cost of combating this insect can be greatly reduced by cutting and burning worthless brush, hollow trees, etc. A few trees well cared for are more valuable to the property owner and the community than a large number of neglected trees.

The nests of the brown tail moth should be cut from the trees, carefully collected and burned in a stove or furnace.

Full instructions as to the best methods of work against the moths may be obtained from the Local Superintendent, James H. Peckham, or from the State Forester, State House, Boston, Mass.

Work done by contractors should be inspected and approved by the local superintendent before payment for the same is made.

HERBERT A. STANLEY,
FRANK H. COLE,

Selectmen.
